Getting around in Ghent and getting to the Velo-city 2024 venue

Getting to and around Ghent:

If you're in the mood to cycle to Ghent, check out our routes here and join the Velo-city Strava club: Gent, East Flanders, Belgium Club | Velo-city conference on Strava to find new cycle friends!

Ghent's main train station is called Gent Sint-Pieters (in Dutch) or Gand Saint-Pierre (in French).

From Brussels: By train: 30-minute train ride to Gent Sint-Pieters / Gand Saint-Pierre. Trains run about 5 times per hour. No need to choose a specific schedule, as each ticket is valid for the journey of your choice during an indicated day from each station in the Brussels region. <https://www.belgiantrain.be/en>

From Brussels Airport-Zaventem (BRU): By train: direct connections to Gent Sint-Pieters / Gand Saint-Pierre that last 50 minutes. Direct trains run about 2 times per hour - Be careful to catch a direct train!

Ghent is a very accessible city where most destinations are easily reached by foot, bike or public transport. Velo-city 2024 will be held in the middle of the Citadelpark in Ghent. When you enter the park look out for the pointers that will lead you to the entrance:

How to reach the venue

Address: Floraliënhal, Citadelpark - Jan Hoetplein 1, 9000 Ghent

- From Gent-Sint-Pieters train station: Upon arrival at the station, be careful to take the right exit towards the Konigin Maria Hendrikaplein to reach the main hall, as the station is currently under construction. You will find buses on the left when exiting the station. Buses 76,77,78,34,55,70 and 71 go to the venue in 12 minutes. Hop off at the bus stop 'Gent Ledeganckstraat'.
- By foot: Pedestrians experience more! Immerse yourself in the city life and enjoy a 15 minute walk from the Gent-Sint-Pieters train station or a 20 minute walk from the city centre. Simply use Google maps or get a free city map at your hotel, the train station or the Ghent tourist office.
- By public transport: Plan your trip at www.delijn.be/routeplanner and hop on a tram or bus to the venue. Choose the bus stop 'Gent Ledeganckstraat', which is located next to the venue. Buy your tickets in advance at The Lijnwinkel, located at the Gent-Sint-Pieters railway station and Korenmarkt, or at the vending machines at bus and tram stops. It is also possible to tap in with your debit card (contactless payment on the bus or tram).

Getting a bike

Bicycles are provided by the city of Ghent for all Velo-city attendees for the whole week. There will be enough bicycles, so you don't need to make a reservation. To get your bicycle, go to the Bike Rental counter in the conference venue, located at the entrance next to the bicycle parking. There are two options:

- Rental bicycle (provided by the Cycling Embassy of Ghent or Swapfiets) You can use this bicycle for free throughout the conference. You only have to pay a deposit of €80 by debit or credit card, which you'll get back when returning the bike before Friday 21 June at 16:00
- Shared bicycles (provided by Donkey Republic) You can use a shared bicycle for free - get your unique code at the Bike Rental counter in the conference venue.
- More info and conditions are available here: <https://www.velo-city-conference.com/en/tickets-info/faq/#mod149Bike>

These bike tours are led by experts in small groups on a bike and take place in parallel to the conference sessions. At the start of the registration, we asked to register for only one technical visit to give all the participants the chance to choose his/her favourite technical visit. More information available here: <https://www.velo-city-conference.com/en/programme/technical-visits/>
