Kort projektbeskrivelse som forelægges udvalget uredigeret
Once known as Miklagård by the Vikings, Istanbul has been a cultural crossroads, shaping a unique musical tapestry through Greek, Armenian, and Turkish influences. Musik fra Miklagård is a concert celebrating Istanbul's rich musical heritage, where Eastern and Western traditions have converged for over 2,000 years. This project bridges Istanbul's historic sounds with Copenhagen's vibrant music scene, featuring musicians from Istanbul, Rotterdam, and Denmark.

Audiences will experience evocative melodies performed on traditional instruments such as the kemenche, kanun, lavta, and tanbur, creating a rare fusion of past and present. Held at Brønshøj Vandtårn, the concert offers an immersive and acoustically rich setting.

Beyond its artistic excellence, Musik fra Miklagård fosters cultural exchange, inclusivity, and accessibility, engaging diverse communities and younger audiences through workshops. By blending history with contemporary interpretations, this project enriches Copenhagen's cultural landscape and promotes cross-cultural dialogue through

Formidling af projektet

For the past six years, we have successfully organized a diverse range of cultural events in Copenhagen, including world music concerts, screenings of new cinema from the Global South, classical music performances in historic churches, and curated experiences centered around historical food and wine. As a result, we have built an engaged audience of approximately 2,000 individuals who eagerly anticipate our next event, making them our primary promotional channel.

Our second promotional strategy involves leveraging the influence of well-known Danish-Turkish personalities from the fields of gastronomy, politics, and entertainment. Previous events have been endorsed by figures such as chef Umut Sakarya, actress Özlem Sağlanmak, and politician Özlem Cekic, significantly expanding our reach.

Additionally, we have strong relationships with Danish media outlets, including DR's culture section, Jyllands-Posten, and Information, ensuring media coverage and heightened public interest.

Finally, we collaborate with key cultural institutions, such as Bronshøj Vnadtårn and the Danish Cultural Institute, to cross-promote content, further amplifying the event's visibility.
